

MENTORS WANTED

The ACE Mentor Program of Northeast Florida is currently registering NEW MENTORS from the design and construction industry.

The design and construction industry has an urgent need for young people to join our industry. We are looking for industry professionals to share their passion with local high school students to get them excited to join us. If you are a designer, engineer, contractor, marketing professional or otherwise engaged in design and construction and want to get involved, please consider joining this program. Meetings take place at locations throughout Jacksonville once a week beginning in November through the first week of May. You will work together with other professionals to present career opportunities and together with high school students as they work on their team project.

ENGAGE

Connect high school students to the architecture, construction and engineering industries

EXCITE

Motivate students to problem solve, explore and design solutions for their projects

ENLIGHTEN

Offer your experience and knowledge to the future architects, contractors and engineers of our industry
