ACE DC WELCOMES NEW BOARD MEMBER

(Washington, D.C.) David Sovinski, the National Director of the International Masonry Institute (IMI), has recently been elected the newest member of the ACE DC Board of Directors.

David has been with the International Masonry Institute since 1992 and possesses 30 years of experience as a construction manager, program manager, and estimator. He has led educational programs for IMI and is a former adjunct professor from Purdue University where he taught courses in architecture and technology. He holds a B.S. in construction management from Purdue University. He is a member of the Industry Council for the Built Environment and The Masonry Society as well as other industry organizations.

About the ACE Mentor Program – DC/MD/VA

ACE is an acronym for architecture, construction, and engineering. It is a unique partnership among industry professionals, college and university representatives and professional organizations throughout the Greater Washington Metropolitan Area. The ACE Mentor Program of DC/MD/VA is an award-winning, nonprofit organization whose mission is to enlighten and increase the awareness of high school students to career opportunities in architecture, construction and engineering – as well as other related areas of the design and construction industry – through mentoring and scholarship awards. The program makes a special attempt to reach students of all demographics; and those currently underrepresented in the industry.
