Founded in 2006, ACE Mentor Program of Greater San Antonio consists of building industry professional and educators who help high school students learn more about potential careers in architecture, construction, or engineering.

During the program, students work in teams under the mentorship of experienced professionals, who guide them through projects that meet real world industry requirements. The result is an opportunity to gain practical insight into what building industry professionals do to transform their ideas from initial concept into a finished building.

In addition, qualified students can apply for local scholarships to summer camps or college/university study in the fields of architecture, construction, or engineering.

ACE Mentor Program of Greater San Antonio empowers aspiring professionals in architecture, construction, and engineering by connecting students with real-world industry experiences. Serving 284 students across 13 area schools, the program engages 85 dedicated industry mentors who provide invaluable guidance and support. Each year, ACE provides more than $100,000 in scholarships, transforming opportunities for San Antonio students and contributing to the development of our community's future workforce.
